

Privacy policy

This is the privacy policy of Robusto Asset Management GmbH,

Personal information is collected on this web page only to the extent necessary for technical purposes. The collected data will in no case be sold or passed on to third parties.

Data processing on this web page

Robusto (or the Robusto Asset Management GmbH) collects and automatically saves in its server log files the information transmitted by your browser. The following information is transmitted:

- Browser type/ -version
- Used operating system
- Referrer URL (the previously visited page)
- Host name of the accessing computer (IP address)
- Time of the server request

For Robusto this data is not assignable to specific people. This data is not joined with other data sources.

Contact us via our web page

When contacting Robusto via the contact form, certain information is requested from the enquirer (such as name, city, zip code, location and product interest). This data is electronically saved as entered by the enquirer and processed. It is not passed onto third parties, as mentioned above.

We also save your contact information, in order to be able to check afterwards if you have received the offer provided to you. This particularly helps for the support!

Please further note: If you subscribe to a Robusto newsletter, your email address will also be saved in order to send newsletters to you.

Right to information

You have the right at any time to review the personal data stored, the origin and recipient of the data, as well as the purpose of the data processing. You can find contact options on our webpage.

Google statistics

This web page uses the Google Analytics service, a web analysis service of the Google Inc. (Google). Google Analytics uses so-called cookies, text documents, which are saved on your computer and enable an analysis about your use of the web page. The information created through the cookie about your use of the web page (including your IP-address) is transmitted and saved to a Google server in the U.S. Google which will use this information in order to evaluate your use of the web page, create reports about the web page activity for the web page publisher and for further web page uses and offers the services associated with the internet use. Google transmits this information to third parties, if this is requested by law or if third parties are processing this information for Google. Google will not associate your IP address with your data. You can disable the installation of the cookies through an according setting of your browser software. We would like to inform you however, that in this case you might not be able to use this web page to its full extent. By using this web page you agree to Google using the collected data about you in the previously described manner for the previously mentioned purpose.

However, we would like to inform you that we do use web controlling technologies or Google Analytics in order to identify the users of our web page personally. You can disagree to future data collection and storing at any time.

Do you have any questions?

We are happy to answer all further questions about data protection. You can find our address, telephone number and email address on the imprint page. Just send us your question and we will contact you as quickly as possible!

Public statement of data processing

Robusto Asset Management GmbH

The Federal German Data Protection Act (BDSG) stipulates in § 4g that the privacy officer must disclose the following information to any person in a suitable manner according to § 4e BDSG upon request. We provide you the essential specifics in the following summarized, in order to give you a first orientation. We inform you about whether your personal information is stored and which data is stored and in which processes of automated processing procedures your information might have been saved upon request. Your right to information according to § 34 BDSG is not restricted hereby.

I) Details about the responsible body

(§ 4e Sentence 1 No.: 1-3 BDSG)

Robusto Asset Management GmbH

Theodor-Heuss-Allee 112,
60486 Frankfurt am Main,
Germany

Contact information:

frankfurt@robustoam.com

+49 (0) 6964 3508 220

Managing Director: Michael Doherty
Group Data Privacy Officer: Maria Milaj

II. Information on the automated processing procedures

(§ 4e Sentence 1 No.: 4-8 BDSG)

1. Purpose of the data collection - processing or use

Purpose of data collection is the provision of financial services, particularly the provision of organizational, economic, financial and technical expertise in the field of financial advise.

2. Description of the groups of people concerned and the related data or data categories

Customer data, employee data, and information of suppliers if they are needed in order to fulfill the purpose stated under 1. We inform you about which data has been stored and in which process or company your data might be stored, upon request.

3. Recipient or categories of recipients to whom the information can be made available

Public authorities if statutory regulations exist, external contractors according to §11 BDSG as well as external authorities and departments of Robusto Asset Management GmbH in order to fulfill the purposes mentioned under 1.

4. Standard terms for the deletion of data

The legislator issued various duties to preserve records and duties to preserve record terms. After the end of these terms the data is routinely deleted. If data remains untouched by this, they will be deleted, if the under 1 mentioned reasons do not apply.

5. Planned data transmission to third countries

A transmission to third countries is not planned.